The classic theme of education has always been that of a sound mind and a sound body; and so this year's emphasis on the election and the Olympics has furnished a logical point of departure for our Annual.

ANNUAL STAFF

The aim of this publication is to present to you, the students of B. U. H. S., the ideas that our glorious, fabulous, breath-taking all girl staff (plus Lawrence) have gotten from the various activities of our school. However we feel the true honors should go to Mr. Waters for his unceasing efforts to out-scream the rest of us.

SCHOOL BOARD

The members of the School Board have the dubious pleasure of making the important decisions concerning the ever-increasing number of problems that arise during the school year. Similar to the Roman council of ancient times, they have shown their ability to cope with these obstacles in an admirable manner.

Have you lost your faculties? In the ancient tradition of their predecessor Socrates, these patient tyrants strive to guide unruly us through what are supposedly the most important four years of our lives. They somehow manage to turn out intelligent, well-educated graduates.

DEDICATION

In the composition of any work of art there are three prerequisites: an artist, the tools with which he works, and subject matter. The artist can be either a sculptor, a painter, a writer, or a composer; above all he is a creator. The tools the artist uses vary with what he is creating and so does his subject matter, but even so the end results are always alike in that they are original works of art.

The San Gorgonian also is an original work of art which needs a composer, tools he can use, and subject matter. We, the students of Banning Union High are the subject matter, the annual staffs are the tools, but who is the artist, the composer? Mr. Joe Waters, the annual staff advisor, of course.

For the past eight years the San Gorgonian has been printed under the supervision of Mr. Waters for the enjoyment of the students of Banning Union High. Each year the credit for this annual publication has gone to the respective annual staff, but we, mere tools used to produce the yearbook, know that the real credit should go to Mr. Waters as our annual staff advisor. Only through his dedication, effort, and drive do we have a finished annual each year. Without his leadership, pep talks, and general know-how the annual staff would be at a loss most of the time. So, unknown to him, we have affectionately dedicated the 1961 San Gorgonian to Mr. Joe Waters, annual staff advisor.

Seniors

Seniors

These high and mighty rulers have conquered the past four years of high school by a variety of methods that they refuse to divulge. It has been observed by the senior class of '61 that they will never be equalled in the years to come. Others opinions don't count.

This middle class has honor of giving up their funds on a prom for the benefit of the "Mighty Ruling Seniors." They obtain these funds from concessions and other dubious methods. After a little more struggling they will gain the privilege of being Seniors.

Club Presidents

Hard work, hard work, and more hard work is characteristic of each of these noble students. Whenever a job in their respective clubs is left undone, guess who does it? Yes, presidents are left with many unfinished jobs and they carry the weight of the club projects on their shoulders. We all realize that presidents would be nothing without their clubs but we also realize that clubs would be nothing without their presidents.

There appears to be a bug in this rug!

Hey! What's that pink elephant doing on the ceiling? Say, here comes another one in the door!

Oh, Lemily, I shuddenly feel sho diszhy.

Mrs. Abras, the seniors will always remember "When Our Hearts Were Young and Gay." This year's senior play was a smashing success. The play was a comedy portraying two excited girls, determined to be independent, embarking on a voyage to Paris. They have an exciting adventure with a stowaway, the leader of the ship's band (whom they mistake for an admiral), all kinds of fancy sea sick remedies, life preservers, fog horns, and two handsome young medical students. Just before the ship lands, Cornelia comes down with measles. Assisted by the medical students, Cornelia passes medical inspection in an uproarious scene. In Paris the girls become involved with an exploding gas meter, a bed slept in by Cardinal Richelieu, and a noted French actor. The delightful play closes with the girls saying, good bye to a "wonderful summer."

Like I said, there I was talking to Tritan blowing his wreathed horn and I says to him. . . . . .

This is the kast that kast the spell, but can't spell kast very well.

Math Club

The Math Club is an organization that promotes an interest in Math. Every year a group of math students goes to Coachella to compete in a math contest among schools. The Banning math students have placed every year. With the added emphasis on math in our society, we are proud that our school is among those producing outstanding math students.

The Spanish Club promotes an interest for learning to speak Spanish, the language of our southern neighbors, and also for learning about the cultures, the people and the cities of Mexico and South America.

Student Council

Our illustrious leaders congregate in the cafeteria for the purpose of furthering the practices of government so that the students will be better prepared to fit into the complexities of adult life. Despite the pandemonium that accompanies the meetings, the confused participants eventually succeed in getting things accomplished. We notice that the greater part of the student body has survived another year.

B.T.A. Neophytes

These feature teachers, who will probably sacrifice their sanity for the art of teaching, are constantly on the alert to learn the methods of the B.U.H.S. faculty.

Scholarship Society

The scholarship society is composed of students, brainy and otherwise, who have earned the ten grade points that are required to belong to the C.S.F. These students have fully deserved the banquet which is sponsored by the Rotary Club, and the C.S.F. Trip which enables them to enjoy the fact that they have made the top grades in school.

Jr. Red Cross Club

This organization is helpful not only to the community but its members also because it helps to develop a useful and sympathetic outlook. Among their services are reading to the blind, making gifts for hospitals and children's homes, and working part-time in hospitals.

Medical Club

When the Medical Club goes into action, well, watch out! Someone who has stubbed his big toe could find himself with a tourniquet around his neck, or someone who has broken his leg would be liable to get a finger bandaged. It is the purpose of the Medical Club members to explore the various fields in medicine through resource speakers, field trips, and volunteer work. After all their work and effort you can hardly blame them for getting a little wild when it comes to bandaging.

Girls' League

This noble organization includes as members all distaff students of Banning Union High School. They plan and carry out several activities during the year. Their main project is the annual Spinsters Dance. This year they also put on a Big Sister, Little Sister party and fashion show, later in the year they joined the P.T.A. in putting on a breakfast to raise money for the youth center and finally in May were co-hostesses to all the other Girls' Leagues in the country in the annual spring Conference of Girls' Leagues.

Band

The band supplies the musical back-ground and fanfare for the important school events. These events include the football games, pep rallies and special assemblies. This vear the band has been successful in creating a great amount of enthusiasm in the students during the fabulous sports season of the Mighty Broncos. So to the marvelous leadership of Mr. Hobson, the band is constantly improving.

The band plays the "Victory Song" as the Broncos score again.

The pep band enlivens the spirit of the students during pep assemblies.

The first successful Homecoming Parade was led by the Banning Bronco Band.

Stampede

The Stampede (appropriately named group) staff must live up to their name to turn out each thrilling addition of the Stampede, our illustrious newspaper. Every other Friday we see students thumbing through the paper, trying to guess Who's Who, reading the latest gossip, or looking at the latest sport predictions or news commentations. It keeps us posted on what has happened during the past two weeks since most of us are too dazed to notice ourselves.

Chorus

This mixed chorus, composed of all girls, is constantly vocalizing: M-I-C-K-E-Y M-O-U-S-E. In their spare time, however, they do prepare music and song for different wants throughout the year.

Graceful as a statue. What statue is that? Aloof as the pigeon perched on the top of the statue. Again the girls prove that a picture is worth a thousand words. Unfortunately, we don't have room for a thousand words of copy—so here is a picture.

Sportsmanship Trophy

The D.V.L Sportsmanship Trophy, a symbol of our high moral standards, has been proudly displayed by the B.U.H.S. student body this year. The trophy exemplifies not only high moral behavior, but also near perfect sportsmanship at all football and basketball events. We can all be very proud that B.U.H.S. has set such high standards.

The Rally Club composed of some of the girl students of B.U.H.S. characterizes good sportsmanship and has largely to do with the loud mouths, we mean loud yells, at the games, and their willingness to scream for the boys.

OFFICE STAFF

On our tour of the school we noticed that the office closely resembles Grand Central Station from 7:30 A.M. until 4:30 P.M. If you happen to have cause to venture in this direction, you will notice the grinning statues, portrayed by Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. Abbot, saying "May I help you? and at the same time with their arms automatically going up and down stamping excuses. It is to these women that we extend our heart-felt sympathy.

The football season is enlightened by the swaying and waving of the pom pons as the girls zestfully perform their rhythmic routines. It takes many hours of persistent and industrious practice to perfect the complicated routines which they executed at the halftimes of each home football game.

Banning evens up Desert Valley mark

The Banning Broncos evened up their Desert Valley League record at 1-1 last night by whipping Twentynine Palms, 40-30, but Beaumont High's Cougars slumped to an 0-2 De Anza League mark by losing to Fallbrook, 75-61.

The Cougars rode a silent bus home from Fallbrook after being knocked over in a wild, foul-happy brawl played without a clock or scoreboard during the entire second half.

Sports

In sports the Banning Broncos have usually emerged triumphant; not only in high scores but consistently in excellent sportsmanship.

Cheer Leaders

ably be a peppy cheerleader who has become slightly chilled. Or if you happen to see a vivacious girl dressed in green and white jumping and yelling at a basketball game you may conclude that she is one of our enthusiastic cheerleaders. Even if our cheerleaders turn to ice cubes during football season or become jumping jacks during basketball season they do add vim and vigor to the Bronco spirit.

Song Leaders

The band starts with the beat and the songleaders follow through with vim and vigor and rhythmic routines. They greatly contribute to the enthusiasm shown at the games and they add a colorful touch to the excitement of the crowd.

Allen Rice and Jerry Harvey dive for the ball.

If you really want to know, you're standing on my head.

Please, let me catch it.

Football season is looked forward to by boys and girls alike. The boys look forward to the thrilling, rough and ready games, and the girls look forward to the rough and ready boys.

Do you feel tackled — when run down by another player?

Varsity Basketball

Coach Dan Stevenson

At the end of the football season, sports leave the ground and take to the air. The basketball season begins and the games start fast and furious. With the coaching of Mr. Stevenson, the Broncos placed second in the D.V.L. competition and went into C.I.F. playoffs. In the final thrilling game with Bolsa Grande, the Broncos showed their spirit and skill by being rough competition for the Bolsa Grande team, keeping the scores close up to the finish of the game. The Bronco team was proud of their coach, who made a success of his freshman year at B.U.H.S.

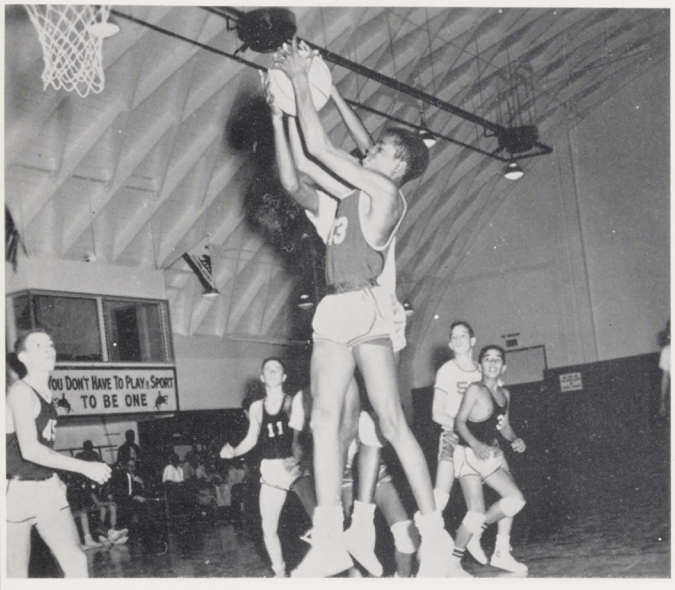
Again the Broncos fight for the ball as the Hemet players block as best they can. And the Broncos show real teamwork.



This is really a jump ball. Also known as the four-armed scramble.

B BASKETBALL

The B team of Banning High kissed their girls a sweet goodbye, for when basketball season came to town the coach made the boys settle down. Then the girls, who were left alone, went to the games instead of staying home. Now they lend the most support for the best looking team on the whole darn court.

Baseball

The spring season starts the sphere rolling. Baseball, the all American sport, does not get much recognition as football and basketball at B.U.H.S., but the boys who play feel the importance of the game and do very well without much student support.

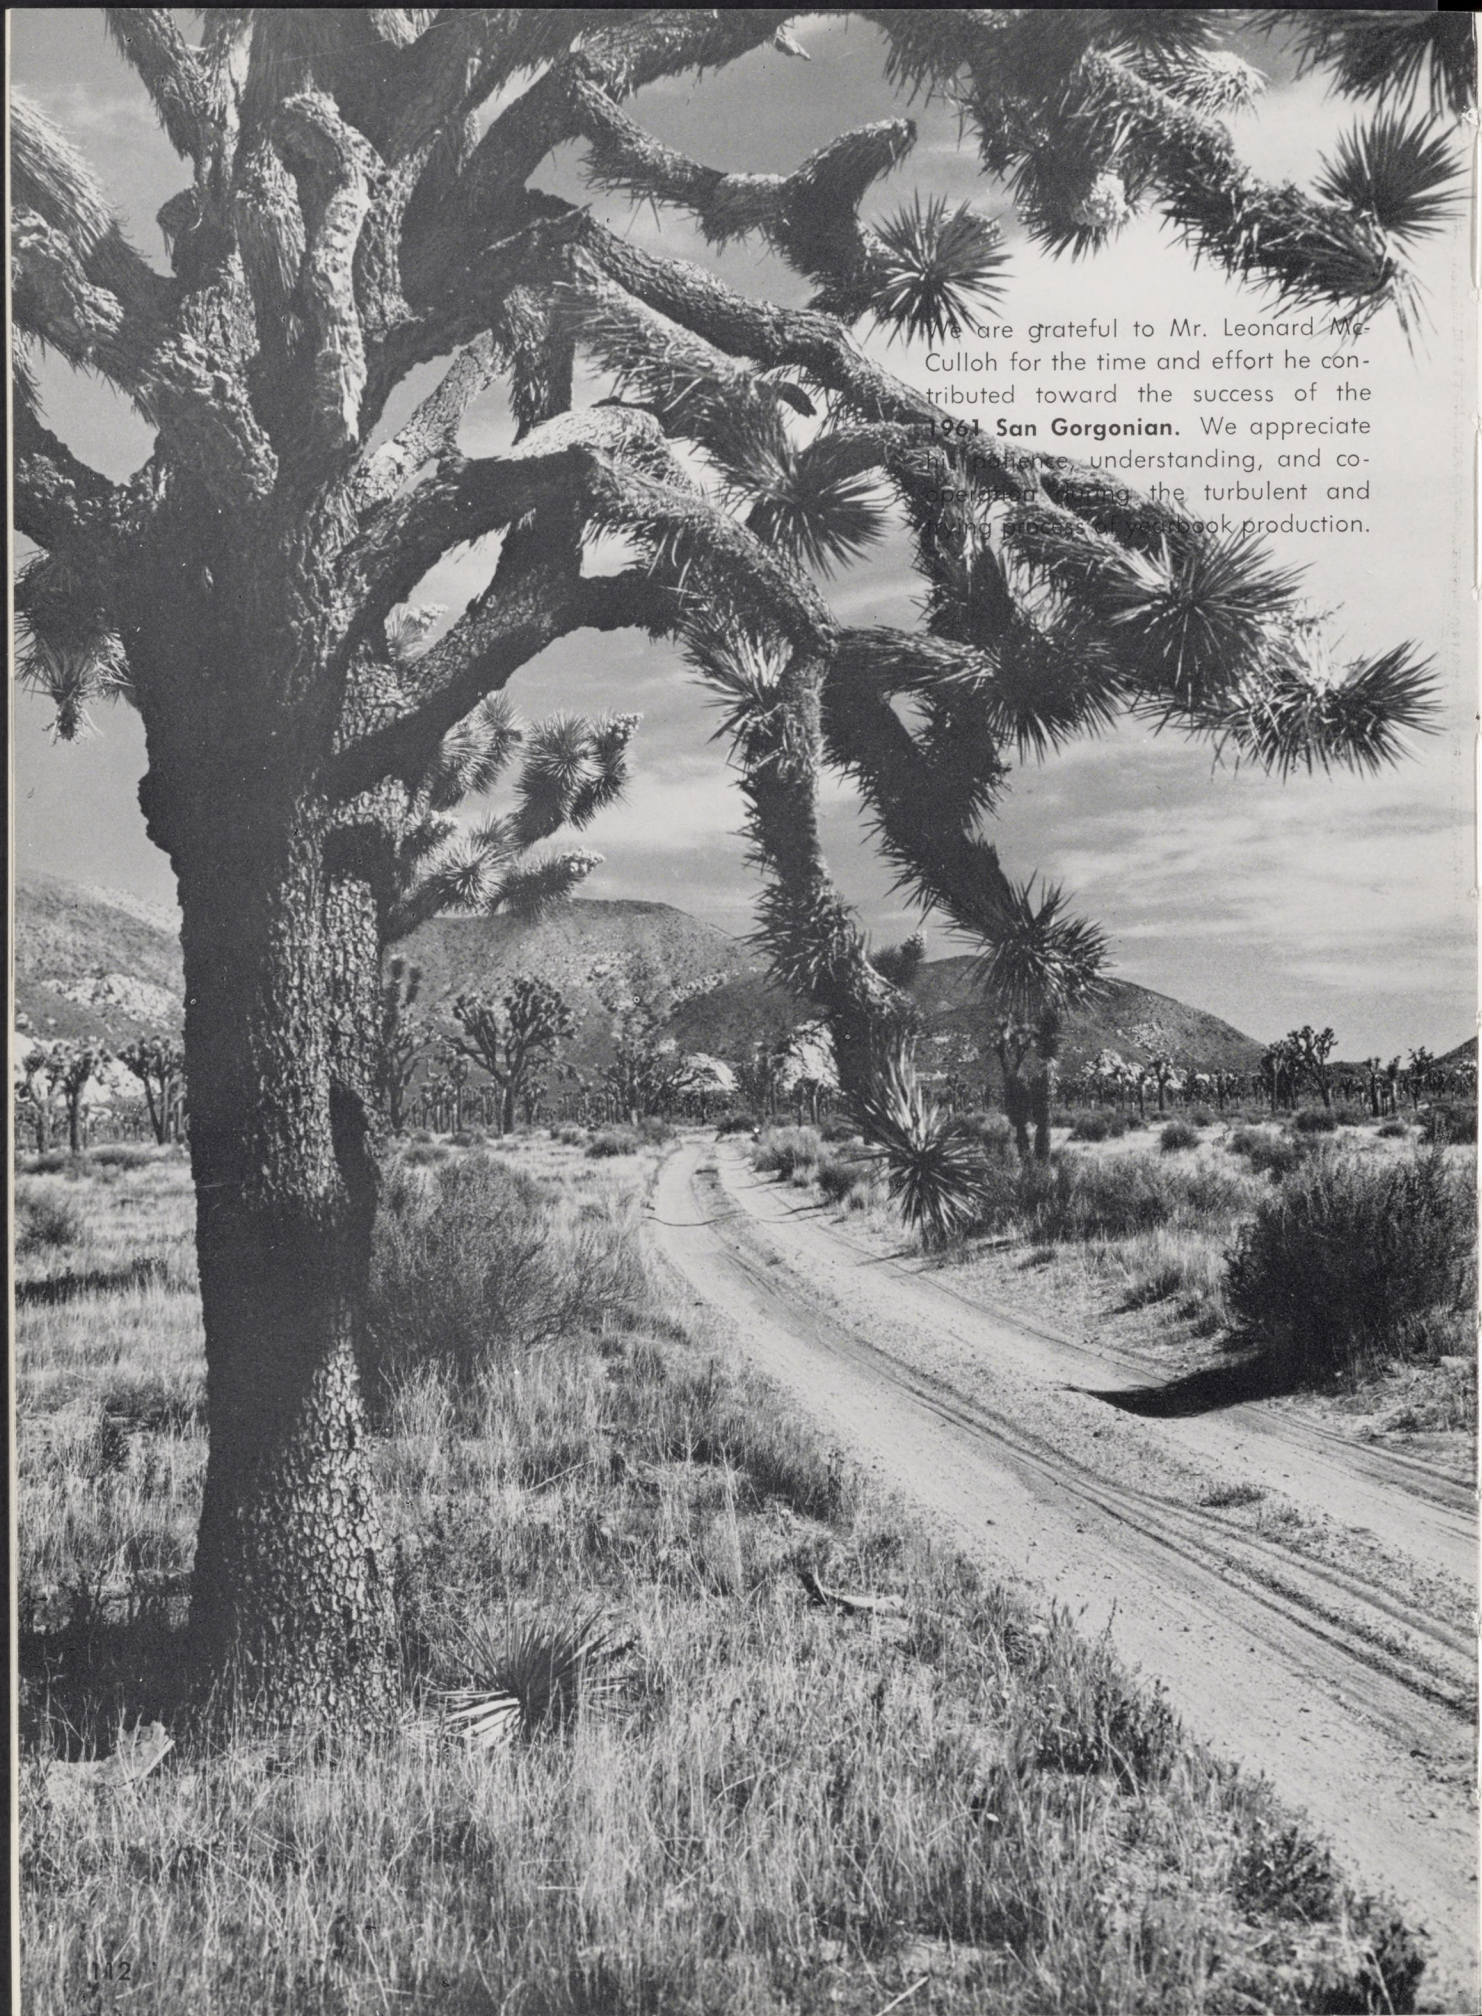
AUDIO VISUAL

Here we present to you the ambitious and industrious persons who run projectors, set up the public address system for various occasions, and to all the other audio-visual jobs around the school. The talent these boys display enables them to avoid plaguing their regular teachers with their presence.



We are grateful to Mr. Leonard McCulloh for the time and effort he contributed toward the success of the 1961 San Gorgonian. We appreciate his patience, understanding, and cooperation during the turbulent and trying process of yearbook production.
